I've been playing Clash of Clans almost as long as it exists. The game is one of the best you will find. There are absolutely zero ads, you don't have to pay anything to progress the game, and the game itself is one of the most fun to play. Clans make it easy to have fun with friends and create new Clash of Friends that you can dominate the war and clan games with. Supercell Customer Support is top notch always given to people to answer questions, listen to concerns and suggestions about the game to help you with any mistakes or problems you have. As an example, I once lost my village with all its progress for a reason. (This happened with several games) I told Supercell about it, and they found my village, and they gave it back to me right away. The only step I ever really disagreed with was removing Global chat. Globally was a great way to chat with people outside your clan and also the best way to employ them. The new recruitment system they have added to replace globally is a waste. I can't get anyone good with this. On the global I build clans from scratch per day. I once recruited 20 people a day to my clan. I was only TH 10 at the time. I understand why you have it supercell, but I would like to see (a) it come back (maybe find a better way to do it) or (b) come up with a new recruitment system that works better than the one that we have. Other than that, an absolutely brilliant game I love to play. Well done Supercell. 🙏 Overall dual of clans is a very pleasant game. I love being able to be in the clan with my friends and building it will be another good player. However, ever since globally was taken out of the game, it has been much harder to find and acquire new non-rushed, kind and loyal members to join our clan. I know globally it was scrapped because a lot of players abused it and were bad for other players, but I believe it was a very important part of it. Play to find new friends that you would like to talk to and play the game with. The new thing that helps to find members of the clan (in my opinion) is not very useful. Most players are very rushed, which do not fit the requirements of the clan I'm in. One more change I would like to see is the time it takes for buildings and soldiers to modernize. The Gold Pass is a very good option to shorten the time, but I'm still a kid out of work, so I'm not always able to use $5 to buy a gold passport. I've gotten it many times before, but without it I'm trying to stay on schedule. I'm TH11 at the moment in the final stages of it. I only have walls left and a couple of soldiers upgrades in my lab on the left. The soldiers on the left are dark potion soldiers and I have no problem getting the necessary materials, but time is almost unbearable. For this reason, I come to the conclusion of why I want to take the time to modernize buildings and soldiers to reduce. Ok, so first I would like to start by saying that your game is absolutely amazing. I play at least an hour a day every day and usually more. It combines fun, strategy, resource management and action all in one wonderful bundle. I myself am City Hall 9, but I rushed through the game too quickly and I am very much behind. Despite this, I love this game more than any other mobile game I've ever played. 10/10.The problem, however, is not how expensive the upgrades are, or how the game is super pay to win (it's not). My problem, it's time. I don't mind saving my gold to strengthen my defenses or get an exciting new building, even if it's really expensive. I hate it when you finally get 2 million gold for x bow, and it awaits you 3 days on top of that. It makes the game so much less enjoyable. The same goes for training soldiers. I love attacking and forming strategies with my soldiers. But it is a little annoying that it makes you pay for soldiers and wait an hour and a half to even use them. I don't mind some of the waiting, but waiting for more than 1 day for a seven dps upgrade that also costs 1.5 million gold is ridiculous. I'm not saying remove the waiting time, but definitely cut down on it quite a bit. But anyways, this game is super awesome and I don't want it to sound like it's a bad game. I really love this game, it's a brilliant work of art.
